Paris quits cabinet after 'heated exchange'

An NDP MLA has left cabinet after admitting to losing his composure with an Opposition member during an incident on Thursday at the provincial legislature.

Percy Paris says he had a "heated exchange" with Liberal Keith Colwell while the two were near the doorway of the members' washroom. Colwell accused the NDP cabinet minister of assaulting him.

Paris declined to discuss details of what happened, adding he would first discuss the matter with police.

Paris said he momentarily lost his temper.

"Things reached a point where I lost my composure for a few brief seconds," he said. "I regret I lost my cool for a few seconds."

Colwell, the Liberal member who represents Preston, said what happened wasn't proper behaviour.

Later in the evening, he declined further comment, saying he is consulting a lawyer.

Paris said discussions in the legislature during the day concerning the black riding of Preston irritated him.

Just before midnight on Thursday, Premier Darrell Dexter issued a release saying he accepted Paris resignation as minister of African Nova Scotian Affairs and Economic and Rural Development Minister. He will remain as the MLA for Waverly-Fall River-

Beaverbank.

The announcement of Paris leaving cabinet came close to three hours after Halifax police issued a statement saying they charged a 65-year-old man from the Windsor Junction area with uttering threats and assault in relation to an incident on Thursday at the legislature.

The police declined to identify the man but said he was released from custody and will appear at Halifax

Man dies after falling from roof in industrial accident

48-year-old is dead.

A 48-year-old man is dead after police say he fell from the top of a four-storey apartment building in Clayton Park.

Just after 11 a.m., police say they were called to 295 Lacewood Dr. regarding an industrial accident and learned the man had fallen from the roof.

Halifax Regional Police spokesman Const. Pierre Bourdages said paramedics rushed the man to hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries.

As rain began to fall a couple of hours later, officers

Chrissy Matheson, spokesperson with the Department of Labour were seen examining the area behind the apartment where the man was found. Some clothes and brown boots lay nearby on the grass.

The front of the brick building was taped off near a man-lift, its crane reaching to the roof.

The manager of the Haniyas Properties building could not be reached for comment.

A woman who lived in the building said she heard voices below her window and leaned out to see the man's body on the ground.

"It's scary," she said.

Chrissy Matheson, spokesperson for the Department of Labour, said a stop-work order has been issued

"No work will go on until our department is confident that it can continue safely," Matheson said, adding that the order could be lifted before the investigation is completed.

"Once they can figure out what happened and ... how they can protect the workers moving forward, then the stop-work order is lifted," she said.

Matheson said the department can't release any details on whether safety procedures were followed correctly until the investigation is complete, which could take a few months.

First-degree murder. Muise guilty in shooting death of Brandon Hatcher

A Halifax man has been found guilty of first-degree murder in the shooting death of Brandon Hatcher more than two years ago.

A jury delivered its verdict Thursday following a month-long trial at Nova Scotia Supreme Court in Halifax.

A guilty verdict for first-degree murder carries with it an automatic lifetime prison sentence with no parole eligibility for 25 years.

On Dec. 3, 2010, police were called to the 100 block of Lavender Walk in Spryfield, where they found a man who had been shot.

Hatcher was taken to hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Police say the incident was linked to ongoing youth gang rivalries in the Spryfield area, which they later tied to at least two other shootings just prior to Hatcher's death. METRO

Police arrest 2 in pharmacy robbery

Police have arrested two men in connection with a robbery at a pharmacy last week.

A man, armed with what appeared to be a firearm, entered the Caledonia Pharmacy on April 30 and demanded prescription pills, according to police.

Police say two men from West Clifford were arrested Tuesday in Lunenburg County.

Investigators also seized a significant amount of prescription pills at that time.

Police say Shane Hall, 27, faces five charges, including robbery and carrying an imitation handgun with the intent of committing a crime.

His co-accused, Jamie Renouf, 28, faces seven charges. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Confinement case. Leblanc to stand trial next year

A man accused of sexually assaulting and confining a boy in a home in rural Nova Scotia will stand trial next year.

David James Leblanc is facing seven charges in relation to an incident last fall in Upper Chelsea, about 130 kilometres southwest of Halifax.

Leblanc's case was in Nova Scotia Supreme Court in Bridgewater Thursday, where a judge ruled that a seven-day trial by judge and jury would begin March 3.

A 15-year-old Prospect Bay girl has been charged with attempted murder related to a bloody assault on an older woman.

Police say the teen was arrested after Wednesday night's attack on a 52-year-old woman at the home on Prospect Bay Road, where they both live.

"For such a young (person) to be involved in such a violent crime is a serious matter that she will have to answer to," said Cpl. Scott MacRae of the RCMP.

Police said the victim was rushed to hospital after 9 p.m. Wednesday, but she recovered and was released Thursday.

"When we arrived it was quite a scene," said MacRae. "There was a lot of blood due to being attacked with an axe several times."

MacRae said two 15-year-old girls were arrested in a car on Mumford Road about an hour after the attack.

The girl charged with attempted murder also faces counts of aggravated assault, assault with a weapon, possession of a weapon dangerous to the public, theft of a vehicle over $5,000 and eight breaches of court orders.

The other teen is charged with possession of stolen property over $5,000 and 14 breaches of court orders.

There was always "a lot of fighting" going on at the Prospect Bay Road home, according to a neighbour.

"It's just been a bad situation for a few years now," she said.

The neighbour, who asked not to be identified, said the 15-year-old charged with attempted murder has had a "hard life" and seemed very unhappy.

"She's been crying out for help for a long time," the neighbour said.

Halifax retailers are ready for crowds at Open City 2.0

Get out. Residents urged to go see, shop, eat, explore during second showcase of local entrepreneurs

RUTH DAVENPORT
ruth.davenport@metronews.ca

The second Open City event will be a lot like the first, except that there's more of everything.

The annual festival of exploration takes place on Saturday, with more than 130 local restaurants, retailers, museums and other businesses offering incentives to lure HRM residents out for a day of wandering around the peninsula.

"It's about exploring, about whatever exploring means to you, whether it means buying something new or eating something new," said founder Gordon Stevens of the Uncommon Group. "If it's just going into a museum that you didn't have eight bucks to get into before, and it's free, that's good too."

Restaurants will once again be offering a sampling of "back door" dishes, ranging from pizza to burgers to gourmet sandwiches, and businesses will be cutting taxes or offering discounts on goods and services.

New to Open City this year is a scavenger-hunt-style trivia contest with 55 questions related to specific businesses in the downtown core.

"In some cases, you have to be there to figure it out ... in some cases you might be able to figure it out because you're familiar with the business," said Stevens.

Museums are hosting free tours, art galleries are launching new exhibits and the Nova Scotia Archives will hold its

At the Grand Parade, participants can take in some tunes and help paint a troupe of picnic tables.

"They'll be dispersed throughout the downtown all summer long, travelling en masse, so there'll be pop-up picnic areas for the whole summer," said Stevens.

Large crowds came out for the first Open City event, and Stevens said that's helped boost interest this year. "There's a lot of people saying, 'It was my favourite day in Halifax in all of last year,'" he said. "Last year there was no preconceived notion of what it was going to be."

Colon cancer screening kits halted

Nova Scotia has suspended the mail-out of colon cancer home screening kits after technicians detected unusually high rates of abnormal test results.

Dr. Bernard Badley, medical director of the province's Colon Cancer Prevention Program, said Thursday that a monitoring system that tracks the kits discovered about three months ago that positive test results had doubled.

Economic impact

Last year busiest for Halifax airport

The Halifax International Airport Authority had its busiest year yet in 2012, and banked $1.6 million in surplus revenue because of it.

At its annual public meeting Thursday, HIAA president Tom Ruth reported the financial results for last year.

"In 2012, we had our busiest year for passenger traffic, opened our newly extended main runway, updated our five-year strategic plan, and delivered a positive bottom line," said Ruth in a statement.

According to a release, the airport generated $79.3 million in total revenue, up from $77.9 million in 2011.

Total expenses for 2012 were $77.7 million, creating close to $2 million in surplus funds to be reinvested in "operations and development."

Last year 3,605,701 passengers came through the airport, compared to 3,594,164 in 2011.

Teen charged in two Kijiji robberies

Suspect. Accused, 17, facing 15 charges in total

PHILIP CROUCHER
philip.croucher@metronews.ca

Halifax police have charged a 17-year-old male in relation to a pair of Kijiji robberies that saw each of the victims sprayed with an irritant.

On the night of April 30 in Dartmouth, police say someone was sprayed with an unknown irritant during a Kijiji sale involving jewelry.

The victim, 25, said he met two parties near Lacombe Drive and Gaston Road to sell a piece of jewelry that he had advertised on Kijiji.

Once the victim handed over the jewelry, police say he was sprayed with an irritant and two men fled on foot.

The second instance happened the next night when a teenager was robbed of jewelry then sprayed with an irritant in a Lower Sackville parking lot at Kent Building Supplies.

Once the victim handed over the jewelry, police say he

"We don't believe he had any intention of buying the items."

Halifax Regional Police spokesman Const. Pierre Bourdages referring to the 17-year-old charged and his three passengers were sprayed with the irritant.

On Wednesday, police say they stopped a vehicle on Westridge Drive in Halifax and a 17-year-old male was arrested in relation to the robberies.

They also allege cocaine, cannabis resin and prescription medication were recovered.

The youth is scheduled to appear in Halifax provincial court Friday.

The 17-year-old youth is charged with two counts of robbery, five counts of assault with a weapon, five counts of administering a noxious substance and three counts of possession of drugs for the purpose of trafficking.

Police spokesman Const. Pierre Bourdages said he was unaware if police were still looking for another suspect in the case.

Review. Premier Dexter, former resident of Home for Colored Children clash

Confrontation

Premier Darrell Dexter said if the media wanted to hear from Smith, he would leave. But as the premier turned on his heel and headed toward the legislative chamber, Smith apologized and withdrew.

Premier Darrell Dexter was on the defensive Thursday minutes after his government appointed a social worker to draft terms of reference for a panel that will review allegations of abuse at a Halifax orphanage.

Tony Smith, the head of a group of former residents who allege they were abused at the Home for Colored Children, took Dexter to task as the premier was answering reporters' questions outside the legislature.

Smith and his group, the Victims of Child Exploitation Society, have been pushing for a public inquiry for months, and they've rejected the premier's decision to appoint an independent panel to hear from them.

"We are acting on exactly what they requested us to do," Dexter said. "They have a fundamental misunderstanding of the nature of inquiries."

At that point, Smith stepped forward and interrupted Dexter, saying: "I have a clear understanding of inquiries."

"You're not listening to us.... We had not agreed to an independent panel."

Province passes amendments to HRM charter

The provincial legislature has passed amendments to HRM's charter that are widely expected to improve the development climate in the regional centre.

MLAs passed the amendments, allowing the use of site plan approval and density bonusing, during third reading on Thursday.

Site plan approval allows approval of proposals that meet certain specific criteria in as little as 60 days — much more quickly than via development agreement.

Density bonusing offers additional height or density to a developer who provides public amenities, such as public art, street-scaping, or public housing.

Magic mushrooms give some depression sufferers high hopes

Potential. Research shows that their active ingredient dampens part of the brain that is overactive in depressed people

KIERON MONKS
Metro World News

Desperate for a fix, David Nutt considered buying magic mushrooms from the street. Restrictions on the drug were making it impossible to conduct clinical trials, and Nutt had no way to secure the mushrooms that are widely available from illegal dealers.

"Fortunately the publicity helped, we are optimistic about the licence and supply now," Nutt, head of neuro-psychopharmacology at Im-

A treatment 'prospector'

"I'm not saying we will revolutionize depression treatment, but there is a group for whom it will be useful."

U.K. professor David Nutt

perial College London in the U.K. told Metro.

No stranger to controversy — Nutt was fired as government adviser for claiming ecstasy is as safe as horse riding — he is set to push the boundaries with the first trial of magic mushrooms to treat depression.

Research has shown that psilocybin, the active ingredient in mushrooms, dampens the brain's anterior cingulate cortex, which is overactive in depression sufferers. Trials will target the most severe cases. "The hypothesis is lasting benefits for people who have not responded to interventions," says Nutt. If the treatment seems radical, the professor argues it is proportionate. "Depression is the largest cause of disability in Europe, and only two-thirds of people get well. The rest are out of work and can't cope — we have to try everything."

But despite a rigorous attachment to evidence, Nutt admits he is fighting a crusade and wants to "tap into a reservoir" of hard drugs in clinical practice. "It's a campaign for the liberation of science — drug laws have censored research in this field for 60 years. I think it's the worst censorship since the Catholic Church stopped Galileo using his telescope."

Psilocybin and other mind-altering drugs are becoming popular solutions to a broad spectrum of mental health issues. A 2012 study found that ecstasy chemical MDMA had a lasting impact on post-traumatic stress disorder. Norwegian academics recently found that LSD improved misuse rates in 59 per cent of alcoholics.

"LSD seems to help people see their problems in a different light, to give new insights into their problems ... and to make a strong resolution to discontinue their drinking," said psychologist Pål Johansen.

Duffy, Wallin still under pressure

An independent audit into dubious housing allowance claims by three senators did little Thursday to silence allegations of improper spending and cover-up hanging over Canada's much-maligned upper chamber.

Liberal Senate leader James Cowan said he wanted the committee looking into the controversy to ask police to investigate the housing claims by Conservative Senator Mike Duffy, former Conservative Sen. Patrick Brazeau and Liberal Mac Harb.

"Personally, I think that's the appropriate thing to do," Cowan said.

Liberals and New Democrats in the House of Commons also clamoured for a police investigation even as Prime Minister Stephen Harper effectively declared the matter closed — satisfied, evidently, with the audit's conclusions that the rules governing housing claims should be clarified and the money repaid.

The integrity of the audit process was also called into question Thursday amid suspicions that Duffy was tipped off about irregularities in his expense claims by the chairman of the parliamentary committee that was investi-

The furor over housing allowances has also raised questions about whether Duffy and Sen. Pamela Wallin are entitled to sit in the Senate at all. A senator is required to reside in the province they were appointed to represent.

gating them.

A letter from Duffy suggests fellow Conservative Sen. David Tkachuk, head of the Senate's internal economy committee, told him that auditors had found he collected more than $1,000 in a daily living allowance while on vacation for 12 days in Florida.

"I discovered that through a clerical error, per diems were inadvertently charged for several days when I was not in the National Capital Region," Duffy said in the letter.

United States. Military must address sexual-assault epidemic head-on: President Obama

Senior White House officials met privately Thursday with a bipartisan group of lawmakers as growing outrage over the armed forces' handling of sexual assaults injected new energy into efforts to rewrite decades-old military laws.

Senior aides to U.S. President Barack Obama met Thursday morning with 14 female lawmakers and two men.

Obama has said he has no tolerance for the problem and that the Pentagon must address it head-on. In a massive report released Tuesday, the Pentagon outlined how sexual assaults across the military are a worsening epidemic.

The report emerged against a backdrop of scandals, including an ongoing investigation into more than 30 Air Force instructors for assaults on trainees at a Texas base. Days ago, the Air Force's head of sexual assault prevention was arrested on charges of groping a woman in a parking lot.

Mexico cartel conviction

Conspiracy to launder money

A brother of two top leaders for one of the most powerful drug cartels in Mexico was convicted Thursday of buying racehorses to hide illegal drug profits.

A federal jury found Jose Trevino Morales, 46, guilty of conspiracy to commit money laundering. Trevino faces up to 20 years in prison.

Prosecutors say his older brothers, Miguel Angel and Oscar Omar Trevino Morales, are the leaders of the Zetas, a Nuevo Leon-based organization that has expanded beyond the drug trade to become the biggest criminal group in Mexico.

Vietnamese take to sea again for a better life

Decades later. This year alone, 460 Vietnamese men, women and children have arrived on Australian shores

Nearly 40 years after hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese fled the country's Communist regime by boat, a growing number are taking to the water again.

This year alone, 460 Vietnamese men, women and children have arrived on Australian shores — more than in the last five years combined. The unexpected spike is drawing fresh scrutiny of Hanoi's deteriorating human rights record, though Vietnam's flagging economy may also explain why migrants have been making the risky journey.

The latest boat carrying Vietnamese cruised into Australia's Christmas Island one morning last month, according to witnesses on the shore. The hull number showed it was a fishing vessel registered in Kien Giang, a southern Vietnamese province more than 2,300 kilometres from Christmas Island, which is much closer to Indonesia than it is to the Australian mainland.

Many Vietnamese who have reached Australia have been held incommunicado. The government doesn't release details about their religion and place of origin within Vietnam, both of which might hint at why they are seeking asylum.

Truong Chi Liem, 23, reached via telephone from the Villawood Immigration Detention Center on the outskirts of Sydney, would not reveal details of his case but said, "I'd rather die here than be forced back to Vietnam."

New proposal

N.Y.C. immigrants may get right to vote in city elections

Hundreds of thousands of New York City immigrants could get the right to vote in local elections under a proposal before lawmakers.

City council members discussed the plan at a hearing Thursday.

It would enfranchise people who are in the U.S. legally, but aren't citizens. Advocates estimate that could be more than 800,000 people. Many U.S. states once let non-citizens vote, though policies changed by the 1930s.

Children of victims launch civil suits

The children of four missing women whose remains were found on serial killer Robert Pickton's farm have launched legal action seeking compensation.

The daughters and sons of Dianne Rock, Sarah de Vries, Cynthia Feliks and Yvonne Boen have filed separate lawsuits in B.C. Supreme Court, targeting the provincial government, the City of Vancouver, Robert Pickton and his brother, Dave, and their sister, Linda.

The statements of claim allege numerous failures on the part of Vancouver police, RCMP and Crown prosecutors, including that police didn't warn women in the Downtown Eastside that a serial killer may have been targeting women in the area.

The lawsuits also complain about the way the police informed the women's families about the Pickton connection.

Gangsterism and chaos. Did Laval mayor take an offer he couldn't refuse?

A corruption-related storm ripped through the Montreal area on Thursday, wreaking devastation on once-sturdy political machines inside and outside the city.

The party that won Montreal's last municipal election was dissolved. And in the big suburb next door, the mayor who dominated the last six elections was slapped with gangsterism charges.

It all occurred in just over an hour.

The succession of events underscored how the political order in Montreal has been overturned during a corruption inquiry, which is just now shifting its focus toward provincial politics.

The last-standing rump of the Union Montreal party, which won the first three elections in the newly

Memorial. Cemetery denies request from rapper's family to inscribe headstone with profanity-laced lyrics Commissioners at a Massachusetts cemetery have said no to profanity on headstones.

Sonny Santiago, 23, was a rapper who died in a car crash in February. Commissioners at Pine Grove Cemetery in Lynn this week unanimously rejected his family's request to inscribe his gravestone with a song verse that included profanity.

The commission became aware of the language when the company inscribing the three-foot-tall memorial submitted drawings to commissioners.

Pine Grove Cemetery regulations posted online state that "the cemetery office

War on drugs. Brazil introduces new rehab funding for crack users

Brazil's most populous and wealthiest state expanded its attack on crack cocaine abuse on Thursday by unveiling a program that will provide about $650 a month in subsidies for the rehabilitation of addicts at private treatment centres.

In announcing the program, Sao Paulo State Governor Geraldo Alckmin said the money will be earmarked monthly for each crack user aged 18 or more who voluntarily enrolls in a rehabilitation program that is expected to get underway in two months, in 11 cities.

The state will give the money to accredited rehabilitation centres when clients present a Begin Again card they receive after enrolling in a program. The cards are valid for six months, the time considered necessary for rehabilitation.

Alckmin said each of the 11 cities in the program will decide the criteria that determine if drug users are eligible.

The Stampede replied, "What do you think about sitting in a horse saddle at full gravity?"

Hadfield responded: "I'll be ready to ride anything that

That prompted Stampede president Bob Thompson to take things a step further. "We would like you to be a big part of our 2013 celebration here in Calgary," Thompson said in a YouTube video posted Thursday. Shortly after noon Mountain Time, Hadfield accepted the invitation.

Third man arrested in alleged VIA terror plot

Recruiter? Authorities say Tunisian 'radicalized' a Montreal man who planned to help blow up a cross-border train

Railway security

VIA says it is contemplating whether to ask all of its travellers for ID as it considers ways to buttress security.

- VIA spokesman Jacques Gagnon said, "In the context of what has happened recently, we are looking at this. But I cannot speculate as to what (we) will do."

A former Canadian resident charged with terrorism offences in the U.S. allegedly radicalized a Montreal man accused of plotting to attack a VIA Rail train, U.S. authorities said Thursday.

Tunisian Ahmed Abassi was charged with fraudulently applying for a visa in order to remain in the U.S. to facilitate an "act of international terrorism."

Two Canadian residents — Raed Jaser of Toronto and Chibeb Esseghaier of Montreal — face terrorism-related charges.

Details of Abassi's arrest and charges were included in a release on Thursday. According to the release, Abassi met with Esseghaier in New York City.

"Esseghaier, who was recently arrested in Canada and is currently incarcerated there on terrorism charges, was previously radicalized by Abassi," the release said.

One-child China. Director alleged to have 7 kids

Authorities are investigating whether one of China's top film directors fathered seven children in violation of the country's strict family-planning laws, state media and a local official said Thursday.

Reports circulated online this week that Zhang Yimou, director of The Flowers of War starring Christian Bale and also known as the architect of the opening ceremony for the Beijing Olympics, has seven children from his two marriages and from relationships with two other women.

"We are trying to confirm the online rumours," said a woman at the general office of Wuxi city's family planning committee, a department under the municipal government. The woman, who declined to identify herself — as is common amongst Chinese officials — said she couldn't reveal any other information until authorities had finished investigating.

Zhang, 61, reportedly could face a fine of up to 160 million yuan ($26 million), said the People's Daily newspaper, the Communist Party mouthpiece. People caught breaking China's family planning policy must pay a "social compensation fee" based on their annual income.

Users of China's lively social media lined up to criticize Zhang and drew distinctions between how the elite and ordinary people are treated.

"However many children a person has is their basic right, but in a twisted society, basic rights have become a privilege," Beijing resident Liu Weiling, who works for a media company, wrote on Sina Weibo.

Harry-mania hits the U.S.

Prince Harry. In his first American visit since his Las Vegas shenanigans last year, the royal spare had women shrieking in Washington

Britain's Prince Harry opened a U.S. visit devoted to the wounded victims of war at the side of one of America's most storied wounded warriors, Sen. John McCain, at an exhibition about landmines Thursday.

For the prince, the tour in the halls of Congress was a world away from the Afghanistan warzone where he recently served for 20 weeks in an attack helicopter. It was just as far removed from his hijinks in a Las Vegas hotel room last year, when fuzzy photos got out of a naked Harry playing strip billiards.

to see him behind rope lines set back from the exhibition, the prince quizzed officials of HALO Trust, a charity that focuses on mine clearance and had staged the display of photos, maps and mine-detection equipment. The devastation caused by landmines was a cause taken up by the prince's late mother, Princess Diana, and Harry has carried on that interest as well as his own charitable work for wounded veterans.

McCain, who was shot down over North Vietnam and tortured as a captive, said he cracked to the prince that "he was probably a much better pilot than I was."

As for the prince's reputation for cutting loose on occasion, McCain joked that the dinner at the buttoned-up British Embassy later was sure to be a "wild and raucous affair."

On Friday, the prince visits Arlington National Cemetery and Walter Reed National Military Medical Center before flying to Colorado for the 2013 Warrior Games in Colorado Springs. More than 200 wounded servicemen and women from the U.S. and Britain will participate.

Harry will also visit parts of New Jersey afflicted by Superstorm Sandy and stop for events in New York City before capping his visit by playing in the Sentebale Polo Cup match in Greenwich, Conn., on Wednesday.

Pre-Approval Notice

IF YOU PURCHASED NEW BALANCE TONING SHOES YOUR RIGHTS MAY BE AFFECTED BY A PROPOSED CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT

A proposed class action settlement has been reached involving New Balance Toning Shoes.

WHO IS INCLUDED?

You may be a Class Member if you purchased in Canada the New Balance Toning Shoes listed below from January 1, 2010 until May 30, 2013.

TONING SHOES:

Rock&Tone, TrueBalance, Aravon Ria, Aravon Riley and Aravon Quinn

WHAT IS THIS CASE ABOUT?

The lawsuit claims that New Balance made certain misrepresentations regarding the benefits of wearing its Toning Shoes in its marketing and sales. New Balance denies it did anything wrong. The Court did not decide which side was right. Instead, the parties have decided to settle.

WHAT DOES THIS SETTLEMENT PROVIDE?

A maximum Settlement Cap of not more than $155,000 is intended to pay claims to eligible Class Members and the costs of the settlement notice. New Balance is also agreeing to refrain from certain practices and to separately pay attorneys' fees, an award to the Representative Plaintiff and the costs of settlement administration. Full details about the Settlement are on the website www.clg.org.

WHAT TYPE OF COMPENSATION CAN YOU RECEIVE?

New Balance will provide to each individual Class Member that qualifies for Compensation the following:

- For a single pair of Toning Shoes: an amount of $100, without the necessity of proof of purchase.
- For two or more pairs of Toning Shoes: a maximum amount of $200, with proof of purchase required for at least one of the pairs of Toning Shoes.

For each Claimant who submits a valid Claim, New Balance shall provide payment as described above, so long as providing such Compensation does not exceed the Settlement Cap. If providing each Claimant with such Compensation will exceed the Settlement Cap, then in such circumstances each Claimant's Compensation shall be reduced on a pro rata basis.

HOW DO YOU ASK FOR A PAYMENT?

To get money, eligible Class Members must submit a claim form by mail postmarked no later than November 14, 2013. Payments could be up to $100 for each pair of Toning Shoes purchased, up to a maximum of $200 for multiple pairs of Toning Shoes, but will vary depending upon the number of Claims submitted by all Class Members and the costs of settlement notice, as specified more fully in the Settlement Agreement.

WHAT ARE YOUR OPTIONS?

If you are a Class Member, you may (1) do nothing; (2) exclude yourself; (3) send in a Claim Form; and/or (4) object to the settlement. If you don't want to be bound by the settlement, you must exclude yourself. However, if you exclude yourself, you can't get a payment, but you can sue New Balance for these claims. If you stay in the Class, you may submit a Claim Form and/or object to the settlement.

WHAT ARE THE IMPORTANT DATES AND DEADLINES?

A motion to approve the Settlement will be heard by the Superior Court of Quebec, 1 Notre Dame Street East, Montréal, Quebec on June 21, 2013 at 8:40 a.m. in room 2.08.

If the proposed Settlement is approved, it will be binding on all Class Members except those who timely and properly opt out.

If you wish to opt out, you must no later than August 19, 2013: i) complete and submit by mail the Opt Out Form; ii) the Opt Out Form is available on Class Counsel's website at www.clg.org. Class Members who want to opt out and who are residents of Quebec must IN ADDITION give notice to the Clerk of the Superior Court of Quebec.

If you wish to object to the proposed settlement, you must send a written notice of objection to Class Counsel and Defence Counsel by no later than June 11, 2013. Your written objection should include: (a) your name, address, e-mail address and telephone number; (b) a brief statement of the reasons for your objection; and (c) whether you plan to attend at the hearing in person or through a lawyer, and if by lawyer, the name, address, e-mail address and telephone number of the lawyer. Class Members who do not oppose the proposed settlement need not appear at the settlement approval hearing or take any other action at this time.

WHEN SHOULD I MAKE A CLAIM?

The Claim Form is available on Class Counsel's website at www.clg.org. A Claim Form must be postmarked no later than November 14, 2013. The Claim form must be sent by mail to: New Balance Settlement Canada c/o Borden Ladner Gervais LLP, attention Marie Gamelin at 1000, de la Gauchetière Street West, Suite 900, Montreal, Quebec, H3B 5H4. There will be no further notice in the newspapers of this Settlement Agreement.

WHEN DO I GET PAID?

Cheques will only begin to be mailed to eligible Class Members for Compensation at the earliest starting on November 26, 2013, assuming that the Settlement is approved and that such judgment has become final.

HOW CAN YOU GET MORE INFORMATION?

A complete copy of the Settlement Agreement and detailed information on how to obtain or file a Claim are available on Class Counsel's website at www.clg.org. To obtain a paper copy or for other information, please call Class Counsel at the numbers below.

WHO REPRESENTS ME?

3D printers will help mould and shape things to come

The future is now.

London, Ont., museum replicating old exhibits with new technology, showing potential real-world applications

KEVIN HURREN
For Metro in London

These days, going to a museum in London, Ont., can feel like entering a whole new dimension.

Museum London has gone 3D — turning to the latest craze in printing to recreate historical artifacts.

Right now, the work's being doing on, quite literally, a miniature scale.

Select objects in the museum's London Works: Labouring in the Forest City exhibit have been replicated on a 3D printer and turned into miniatures of the real exhibit pieces.

When school groups come for tours, they're able to touch the pieces.

"It's a way to engage with the students that come to visit so they can actually handle these 3D replicas. Whereas, they couldn't handle something that was behind glass," said Steve Mavers, the museum's education curator.

While Museum London has only started testing the waters, others have already taken the 3D printing plunge.

The Smithsonian, for example, made at least one full-size rendition of its Thomas Jefferson bust, allowing other museums to borrow the work for displays, Mavers said.

The possibilities — ranging from completely recreating artifacts once considered

Devon Elliott, a Western University PhD candidate in history, is well aware of the potential 3D printing has on the future.

"Historians have often worked under conditions of scarcity, but digital technologies are making things more accessible," he said.

A grave problem. Final, secret resting grounds for Boston bombing suspect finally found Boston Marathon bombing suspect Tamerlan Tsarnaev has been buried in an undisclosed location outside the city of Worcester, police said Thursday after a frustrating weeklong search for a community willing to take the body.

T.O. man charged with kidnapping, sex assault

A man is facing 10 charges, including kidnapping, robbery and sexual assault, after police say a 61-year-old woman was car-jacked while sitting in front of a Toronto coffee shop. Police say the incident happened early Wednesday morning. It's alleged the man demanded money and credit cards from the woman, then ordered her to drive to a secluded area where he sexually assaulted her. Shaun Carlson, 32, of Toronto, was arrested Wednesday night. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Alleged Cleveland rapist, kidnapper held on $8M bail

Ariel Castro appears in Cleveland municipal court Thursday. Castro was charged with four counts of kidnapping and three counts of rape.

DAVID DUPREY/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven charges.

Women gave no indication other brothers were involved: Police chief

The man accused of raping and kidnapping three women, who were missing for about a decade before being found alive at his home, was ordered held Thursday on $8 million bail.

Ariel Castro looked down at the ground for almost the entire arraignment hearing. He didn't speak.

The women found alive after a decade in captivity endured lonely, dark lives inside a dingy home where they were raped and allowed outside only a handful of times in disguises while walking to a garage steps away, investigators say. One of their young daughters was also freed from the house.

The 52-year-old former school bus driver has emerged as the lone suspect.

Daughter's tearful apology

Castro's daughter, Arlene Castro, appeared on Good Morning America on Thursday. She tearfully described being embarrassed and devastated upon learning of her father's suspected role in her good friend Gina DeJesus' kidnapping

- Arlene was walking home from school with DeJesus in April 2004 just before she disappeared. "I would like to say I'm absolutely so, so sorry," she said. "I really want to see you Gina and I want you to meet my kids. I'm so sorry about everything."

Assistant county prosecutor Brian Murphy said the women were beaten repeatedly and sexually assaulted. He said Castro used the women "in whatever self-gratifying, self-serving way he saw fit."

Singer behaved strangely before wife's death: Divorce papers

The lead singer of heavy metal band As I Lay Dying, who is charged with plotting to kill his estranged wife, had recently become obsessed with bodybuilding and had started acting dangerously distracted around his children, his wife said in divorce papers.

Tim Lambesis was charged late Wednesday with one felony count of solicitation of murder, San Diego County district attorney spokeswoman Tanya Sierra said. He was scheduled to be arraigned Thursday afternoon.

Lambesis' estranged wife, Meggan Lambesis, said in the court papers obtained by The Associated Press that her husband had fallen asleep while caring for the couple's three children near a pool and had begun spending endless hours at a gym.

Meggan Lambesis didn't express any concern in the documents for her own safety, however.

Police say her husband tried to hire a hitman to kill her, but the person he approached was actually an undercover detective taking part in a sting operation set up following a tip to law enforcement last week.

In this file photo taken in 2010, Tim Lambesis of As I Lay Dying performs at the second annual Revolver Golden Gods Awards in Los Angeles.

The 32-year-old frontman of the Grammy-nominated band was taken into custody Tuesday.

The band, which plays in an aggressive style that features metal guitar riffs at the furious pace of hardcore punk, was scheduled to tour the country this summer.

Its record label, Metal

Blade, said in a message posted to the band's fans that there are many unanswered questions.

"We'll keep you informed as best we can," the message said. "Our thoughts right now are with Tim, his family, and with everyone else affected by this terrible situation."

Disney snuffs out Day of Dead trademark request

Patently ridiculous.
The Mouse backs down after Latino activists mock its attempt to appropriate cultural holiday for film

When Lalo Alcaraz learned this week that Disney was seeking to trademark Dia de los Muertos, the name of the traditional

Day of the Dead celebrated by millions in Mexico and the U.S., the cartoonist had an idea.

The trademark was for an animated movie by Disney and Pixar Animation Studios Inc. that is inspired by the holiday.

The Los Angeles-based humorist created a movie poster that quickly went viral of a skeletal Godzilla-sized Mickey Mouse, with the words: "It's coming to trademark your cultura (culture)."

Anger and ridicule expressed on social media largely by Latinos began circulating. On Tuesday, Disney said it was no longer seeking a Dia de los Muertos trademark request because the film's name will change before its release.

"Disney's trademark filing was intended to protect any potential title for our film and related activities," a company statement said. "It has since been determined that the title of the film will change."

Disney has not said that social media responses were responsible for the withdrawn trademark request. The company did not immediately return a phone call from The Associated Press. Whatever the reason, the episode showed how quickly reactions to even the smallest corporate move can spread online and lead to calls for boycotts.

MOST BEAUTIFUL LIST IS COMPLICATED

And now from Metro News Central, here's the weekly list of things that make you go ... hmmm?

1 Bye-bye beautiful. Hello! Magazine Canada is out with its list of 50 Most Beautiful Canadians and a face only Chad Kroeger could love is on the cover. Besides Avril Lavigne, other beauties include Justin Bieber and the Ryans, Reynolds and Gosling. Of course, none of these people actually live in Canada.

2 Came from away. Some people actually want to live in Canada. Quite a lot of people, actually. According to the latest census results, released this week, 6.8 million Canadian residents came from someplace else.

3 The world is a safer place this week. Cleveland man Ariel Castro was arrested and charged with rape and kidnapping after three women allegedly escaped from his clutches after being held captive for a decade; bad boy and former Italian prime minister Silvio Berlusconi had his four-year sentence for tax evasion upheld; and Hans Lipschis, a guard at Auschwitz from 1941-45, was arrested in Germany this week. Lipschis is 93 years old. Karma is not always instant.

4 The world is not a safer place this week. If you've got a commercial 3D printer, 60 bucks worth of plastic and Wi-Fi, you can print your own arsenal. A University of Texas law student is the first to print up a working .38-calibre handgun. He won't be the last.

5 The world is not a safer place, especially if you're a chicken. Some kid at the College of Art and Design in Calgary slaughtered a chicken in the school cafeteria recently in an act of "performance art." The kid's instructor was fired, presumably, for not being able to tell the difference between art and life. Some of his students are protesting his dismissal.

The chicken was not consulted.

The chicken was not consulted.

6 Speaking of life and art. One of the most popular baby names for girls in 2012 was "Arya," after Arya Stark, a feisty girl character in the fantasy epic Game of Thrones series that has captivated the nerdverse. Jacob and Sophia were the most popular baby names in 2012. That's AD, not BC, although they were probably pretty hot back then, too.

7 Hockey Night in Canada continues. Sadly, not for the Vancouver Canucks, who were swallowed whole by the San Jose Sharks in four straight games. As this is written, the Montreal Canadiens, the Ottawa Senators and even the Toronto Maple Leafs are still in the quest for Lord Stanley's Cup. Well, at least Vancouver still has Lord Stanley's Park, which this week was declared the No. 2 most beautiful city park in the world by Travel + Leisure magazine. No. 1 is Park Güell, designed by the weird and wonderful Antoni Gaudí, in Barcelona. And isn't this where we came in?

We might not all have the time (or desire) to channel Julia Child at the end of a long work day, but with the help of a few apps, getting dinner together can be a whole lot easier.

BURRITOS/FLICKR

How to Cook Everything

While five bucks may seem pricey for a cooking app, Mark Bittman's How to Cook Everything is a bargain at twice the price. The app not only has the famed New York Times columnist's recipes and how-to pics, but also gives you access to tools like timers and shopping lists.

Dinner Spinner

Wondering what to do with those day-old red peppers and half-can of coconut milk? Input whatever's in your fridge to the free Dinner Spinner app, and voilà! A new meal idea using only what you have on hand.

Ratio

For cooks who hate recipes, Ratio offers guidelines and vague instructions rather than specific directions and ingredients, letting you run wild with creativity in the kitchen.

Big Oven

With a ton of recipes and an interface that's easy to use, Big Oven repeatedly takes home "best cooking/recipe app" awards. Though no signup is needed to access recipes, creating an account lets you scan your mom's old, handwritten recipes, share your favourite meals and have a peek at your friends' recipes, too.

Synopsis

Set in the Jazz Age — early 1920s in New York. Nick Carraway (Tobey Maguire) is working as a stockbroker in the city while living in a wealthy suburban enclave. His neighbour is the enigmatic Jay Gatsby (Leonardo Di Caprio), whose ornate mansion plays host to wild weekend parties. Turns out he isn't the aristocrat he claims to be, but the son of dirt-poor farmers who made a fortune as a bootlegger. Nick soon learns his cousin Daisy (Carey Mulligan) was Gatsby's first love. Gatsby and Daisy try to pick up where they left off, but Gatsby proves unable to control the future as adeptly as he created his past.

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

Pushing up Daisy

The Great Gatsby. There's plenty of eye candy here, but the real razzle-dazzle is in Carey Mulligan's portrayal of Daisy

Richard: Mark, Baz Luhrmann may be the perfect person to retell Jay Gatsby's Roaring Twenties' story. Equally at home with razzle-dazzle and substance, he captures the tone of the Jazz Age while still allowing the story's deeper resonance to shine through the gloss. It's eye candy, pure and simple, and yet the sense of doom that hangs over the beautiful and damned characters in the story is palpable. Without it this would be just another story about pretty people doing pretty-people things.

Mark: Richard, I approached this movie with some trepidation. Luhrmann is such an overwhelming director, and Fitzgerald's book can be as delicate as chiffon. And for the first half hour, it seemed that the story would be swallowed up in crazed, hallucinogenic fantasies of swirling 3D visuals, not that there's anything wrong with that. It's amazing to watch. But then the movie settled down and captured the beautiful and tragic romance between Gatsby and Daisy, and became profoundly moving. The actors all play their parts well, but I have to say the film belongs to Carey Mulligan. You, Richard?

RC: Absolutely. Daisy is one of Fitzgerald's "bright precious things," a hothouse flower and Mulligan has a face capable of simultaneously showing great happiness and profound sadness, a duality that serves her character well. She effortlessly tosses off shallow lines like, "Your life is adorable," while digging deep to convey Daisy's conflicted nature.

MB: She's exactly as I imagined her when I first read the novel over 40 years ago. I wasn't as sure about DiCaprio at first, but he grew on me. I loved the way Luhrmann took vintage movies of New York in the '20s and colorized them, and then converted them to 3D. There's a scene that takes place on a rooftop patio overlooking Times Square that completely changed the way I imagined Manhattan of the past. But what did you think of the anachronistic score? Did you have an issue with it?

RC: It's probably my least favourite part of the film. I get what Luhrmann was trying to do, but here, unlike Moulin Rouge! it doesn't really work. The Jazz Age Amy Winehouse song is OK, but the Jay-Z tune feels more like an attempt to sell soundtracks than serve the story.

MB: The film is soooooo superior to the 1974 Robert Redford/Mia Farrow version that I will forgive him almost anything. People will come for the visuals, but they'll leave touched by the story. And the clothes.

Daddy's going to hang today

Q&A. Simon Pegg, returning in Star Trek Into Darkness, tells us what his three-year-old daughter thinks he does all day

ROMINA
MCGUINNESS
scene@metronews.ca

People who get Star Wars and Star Trek confused — does that infuriate you? You can't expect everyone to know. It's like when you follow a certain religion and you think everyone celebrates Christmas. They don't! On to Star Trek Into Darkness. The scene where the spaceship is going all over the place and you and Chris Pine are jumping around and hanging off railings. Is that look on your face genuine terror?

It was more pain. I had to hang from Chris' hand and the harness could only go from my one hip so I was slightly skewed. But no, it was all acting. My three-year-old daughter was on set that day and she assumed that's what my job was. Hanging. She was like, 'Are you going to hang today daddy?' Scotty doesn't manage to hold on to the bar and is saved by a much stronger Captain Kirk. Ever been like, man, I really wish I had Chris' body?

You should feel his arms. They're like oak. We'd go to the gym together and it was amazing how the female contingent would start gravitating towards him. Nobody paid me any attention. But no, I was pretty buff at the time! You guys should have had that chalk you wear in gym class to stop your hands from slipping. It's not that easy to get on a falling starship... You and Nick Frost have appeared in Shaun of the Dead, Hot Fuzz and other films together. If you could, what part would you give him in Star Trek? I'd love him to play Harry Mudd from the original '66 series. But I wouldn't necessarily want him to be in it and I don't think he would want to either. It's not like we have to come as a package. You don't have a love interest in this movie. What about my little guy? That's my love interest. The little fellow. We're a unit. We're married. Your little alien assistant? But you don't even get to kiss it. I don't kiss it. But if you could, who would you share a kiss with, Alice Eve or Zoe Saldana? That's not a choice any man could make. They're both as gorgeous as each other. They come in and everyone is just like WOW. Your character, Scotty, is Scottish. What's your favourite night cap? And whom would you share it with? Sparkling water, I don't drink. Probably my wife.

Not a fellow actor? Have you met everyone in Hollywood that you've wanted to meet, as a fan? I don't think you could ever meet everybody. L.A. is like one of those safari parks where you can walk amongst the animals. You see like, Jeff Goldblum in the supermarket.

Drama

Blackbird

Director. Jason Buxton

Stars. Connor Jessup,
Alexia Fast

Writer-director Jason Buxton's Blackbird feels like a typical drama about a troubled teen before upping the ante a third of the way through. Sean is a gothy-teen, shunned by the cool kids at school despite a budding romance with Deanna, the hockey captain's girlfriend. Yet things go sideways when the murder tale Sean posts online sparks outrage in the community and he's thrown in jail for plotting a school shooting. The film's strength comes from Buxton's ability to keep viewers guessing as the system closes in around Sean.

IAN GORMEY

Thriller

The Company You Keep

Director. Robert Redford

Stars. Robert Redford,
Nick Nolte, Stanley Tucci

Robert Redford does triple duty as actor, producer and director on the story of Jim Grant, an ex-member of a radical activist group, in hiding since a robbery resulted in the death of a security guard 30 years ago. When one of his former associates (Susan Sarandon) turns herself in, Grant goes on the lam, pursued by the FBI and a dogged reporter (Shia LaBeouf). An all-star cast (Nick Nolte, Terrence Howard and Julie Christie) fuels this political thriller. Trouble is, there aren't many thrills. RICHARD CROUSE

Drama

Still Mine

Director. Michael McGowan

Stars. Genevieve Bujold and James Cromwell

Good movies about and for older audiences are the new black. Still Mine, shot in northern Ontario and New Brunswick, is one of the best. A woman in her 80's falls down the stairs, prompting her husband to build a safer home on their property with his own hands. Local planners and unsupportive children block him at every turn but his will is boundless. The meat of the story is the 61-year bond between the couple, made achingly real by two gifted veteran actors.

ANNE BRODIE

Comedy

Peeples

Director. Tina Gordon Chism

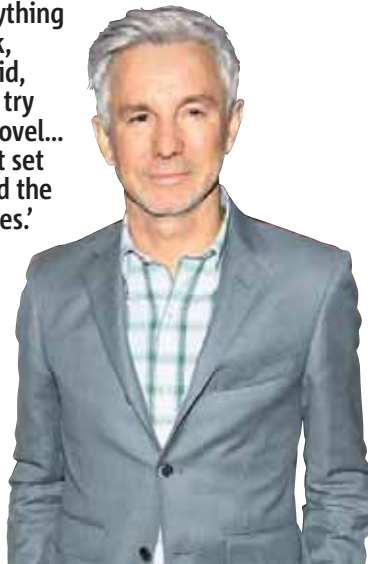

Stars. Craig Robinson,
Kerry Washington

For all the everyman charm of star Craig Robinson, Peeples is still as derivative as comedies get. Basically a twist on Meet the Parents (and many other films pirating the same premise), Peeples spotlights an undistinguished wannabe-therapist trying to win acceptance from his girlfriend's pompous papa. Hyped-up hijinks may humour some moviegoers.

STEVE GOW

"I don't think about expectations. Everything I did in this work, the focus was to try and reveal the novel... The novel wasn't set in a period called the 'Minimal Twenties.' It was called the 'Roaring Twenties.' So it had to roar."

Baz Luhrmann on directing the newest adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby

When one man's job is a producer's treasure

Think your small business has what it takes to be the next reality TV star?

Shows featuring small company owners, such as A&E's Duck Dynasty and History's Pawn Stars, are hits, turning nearly unknown small businesses into household names. The shows give them exposure that most could never afford to pay for through advertising or public relations.

So you want your own show? Here's a guide.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sometimes they find you

Production companies are always on the lookout for businesses to film. That's how Pawn Stars came about. Brent Montgomery, the owner of production company Leftfield Pictures, was at a bachelor party in Las Vegas. The limousine he was in passed by a pawn shop and he came up with the idea of a reality show. Montgomery told his staff to find a family-owned pawn shop in Las Vegas. The producers found Rick Harrison of Gold & Silver Pawn Shop, who had already been pitching a reality show idea to other producers. Harrison went with Leftfield Pictures, which sold the show to History.

Pitch a producer

Many production companies accept pitches for reality shows. If a production company likes the idea, they will be able to bring it to networks. Do an online search for reality TV producers and call to see if they accept pitches. The Idea Factory, which has produced reality shows for Spike and Discovery, accepts pitches on the company's website (tftv.com). Darryl Silver, the owner of the Idea Factory, says that he usually first meets people who pitch shows through webcam chats. Silver usually asks what major events they expect to happen in the next year that could be filmed.

No failing businesses

Your business must be in good financial standing. No production company wants to start filming a show that centres around a business and then have it close down during filming. Production companies will check to make sure your business is on solid footing.

They love families

Family-owned businesses are favoured by producers because it adds "an extra level of story," says Silver. Audiences love seeing people and relationships on TV that they can relate to. Duck Dynasty, which features a family-owned duck-call business, is the most watched documentary-style reality series on TV right now, according to Nielsen, which provides information and insight into what consumers watch and buy.

Goodbye Town, hello platinum single

Dave Haywood. After major successes on previous discs, the country ballad band is claiming to be less forced on Golden

If Lady Antebellum has yet to have another hit to match the spectacular success of its smouldering 2010 ballad Need You Now — a six-times-platinum single that elicited five Grammy Awards, including song and record of the year — it hasn't necessarily been for lack of trying.

To hear Haywood tell it, Lady Antebellum has never been less forced than on their new album, Golden, out today, after Need You Now and 2011's Grammy-winning Own the Night explored sweeping, meticulously orchestrated country ballads.

This is the first Lady Antebellum record that doesn't feature orchestral strings. Why did you make that choice?

Lady Antebellum's Dave Haywood, left, Charles Kelley and Hillary Scott, have had to get used to their recent fame. DONN JONES/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

We've kind of done some more serious songs on the last few records and always done strings and these big arrangements, big overdubs. And yeah, this one we said, "You know what? Let's get in, play these dang songs, and get out." We really just didn't spend much time adding a bunch of stuff. It's not like we're in there adding like thousands of guitars all over and adding all these extra things. So for us it's all about the songs — finding a great song and finding a great arrangement that fits that song.

Goodbye Town is one of the more emotional songs on the record. What's it about? Growing up in a small town,

An escape plan

"Growing up in a small town, sometimes you're kind of stuck in that town. And it's like, man, what am I going to do to get out of here?"

Dave Haywood
Talking about the song Goodbye Town sometimes you're kind of stuck in that town. And it's like, man, what am I going to do to get out of here? Whether or not you had a relationship there, places you go remind you of somebody and it's like: I gotta just get the heck out of this place. I think that was something we all reached down and felt like we've experienced. Musically I think it really conveys that. There's this kind of energy throughout the song where it's just, man, I want to get the hell out of here. I think that was one of our favourites to include on the record.

The band's profile has obviously grown a lot over the years. How have you handled that evolution as a group?

It's definitely been a whirlwind. When we started, it all happened organically. We started off just writing together because we loved writing music and we still do to this day. I think a lot of people from the outside looking in say: "Didn't y'all just get put together and you got thrown out there, and didn't the record label pick all these songs?" That's really not the case here at all. We wrote all these songs and we said, let's try writing them for fun, let's just get a crazy name and do this for fun and then we'll go back to our other day jobs. It'll be a side project. Having that mentality from day one, I feel we've always kept and tried to preserve how authentic we began, and we don't want to lose sight of that.

The Voice. Colombian singer dishes on her new baby boy, getting back into shape and life with her co-hosts on the set of The Voice Colombian superstar Shakira is learning how to balance her demanding work schedule with being a new mom one day at a time.

"It's part of motherhood, you know," she said of juggling her personal and professional life. "You got to figure it out as you go."

The 36-year-old singer and her soccer star boyfriend Gerard Pique welcomed their first child, Milan Pique Mebarak, on Jan. 22.

"With Milan it's a full-blown nursery!" Daly said of Shakira's baby-proofed double-wide trailer. "It's just like Shakira's door opens and it's a Small World starts playing. It's built for Milan. And it's really special and it's cool. We're like a little family."

But according to Shakira, it's not the children who cause the most trouble.

"It's like a kindergarten because these guys are already babies. They're babies!" she joked of her fellow coaches.

When it comes to getting those famous hips back into pre-baby shape, Shakira said she's still working on it.

Fall Out Boy's Wentz opens up about his drug addiction

THE WORD

Dorothy Robinson
scene@metronews.ca

The 33-year-old bassist for Fall Out Boy (and the ex of one Ashlee Simpson) opens up in a new issue of Rolling Stone about how he sunk into a pill addiction after Fall Out Boy went on hiatus in 2009.

The rocker says he abused Xanax and Klonopin, which are primarily used to treat anxiety. "I was probably physically and mentally addicted," Wentz reveals. "It started from insomnia and anxiety from flying, then it spiralled. He continues, "I felt like a loser already. I'd basically gone from being the guy in Fall Out Boy to being the guy, who, like, hangs out all day. I didn't see how I'd ever come out on the other side."

Things only got worse when Wentz split from Simpson. "I was scared of everything. I thought there were always people listening to me," he says. "Like, I had my house searched for bugs. It was crazy."

Wentz says he is clean now, thanks to his son Bronx, 4, and extensive work with a therapist.

David Bowie

Church leaders not impressed with Bowie's bar-fly version of Christ

Church leaders have reacted angrily to the release of a video to accompany David Bowie's latest single, The Next Day, in which he poses as Jesus in a bar. Lord Carey, the former Archbishop of Canterbury — the global head of the Anglican church — said the video was "juvenile" and urged Christians to "rise above it." But he also couldn't resist having a dig: "I doubt that Bowie would have the courage to use Islamic imagery — I very much doubt it." The video contains a sequence of Bowie in a bar in robes,

LIQUID ASSETS
Peter Rockwell
@therealwineguy
liquidassets@eastlink.ca

It's never too early to get your ice cubes in a row when it comes to summertime cocktails. Though popping the cork on a bottle of wine or twisting-off the cap of a chilled beer may be easier, no drink makes your back deck feel more like the Caribbean than a mixed drink.

While some are complicated, most cocktails are a lot easier to make than you might think. Warm weather favourites like the Bloody Caesar (invented in Canada), the Margarita and the Cosmopolitan are no-brainers.

I love to get my Mojito on this time of year. The Cuban classic, which combines white rum, sugar, lime juice, sparkling water, mint leaves and a bit of muddling, is one of the most refreshing drinks in the mixology handbook.

Bacardi — Cuba's hometown hero — is the standard white rum of choice for a Mojito. I kneel to liquid tradition, but find the new wave of white spiced rums make an even better impression in the glass. Captain Morgan Silver Spiced Rum ($24.49 to $29.99) mixes white spices, vanilla and a subtle sweetness that works wonders with the Mojito's minty personality. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS THE COUNTRY. Even when cooking healthier, a small amount of sausage fits into a healthy diet. Be sure to pour off excess fat after cooking. The milk sauce replaces traditional cream based sauces.

1. Cook pasta in boiling water according to package instructions or until firm to the bite. Drain and place in a serving bowl.

2. In a large, non-stick skillet, heat oil and sauté garlic and sausage for 5 minutes, or until sausage is no longer pink. Add olives and red pepper flakes.

3. Meanwhile, in a small bowl, combine stock and flour until smooth. Add to sausage mixture and simmer until just slightly thickened, approximately 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Add chicken and cook for 1 minute. Pour over pasta. Sprinkle with parsley and toss.

SLEEK & SEXY

Humidity can be measured two ways — relatively or by dew point — but who needs percentages when frizzy hair is the best dead giveaway?

This season's most delectable hair trends, however, are seemingly without regard for humidity. Styles spotted on the runways rarely swayed from sleek, but how strands were tied ranged from tight knots (at Ralph Lauren and Givenchy) to simple braids (at Jason Wu and Marchesa) and low-slung ponytails (at Michael Kors and Jil Sander). The common theme among them was simplicity, with not a complicated up-do in sight. Therefore, replicating this season's knotty trends should be a cinch — it's beating the humidity and fighting off frizz that will take some technique.

Using a wax to build hair's defence against frizz before styling can work. Waxes both seal moisture in and prevent excess water from entering the hair cuticle, which is what ultimately causes strands to puff up and kink, no matter the season.

Hair waxes are also known as pomade, styling crème, paste and whip. The degree of thickness depends on the percentage of other ingredients added versus a base wax, like beeswax. Generally speaking, the finer your hair, the more viscous (watery) your pomade or wax should be. If you have thick, curly hair, a heavier wax would work best to hold your sleek top-knot in place all day. If you have fine, straight hair, pick a product more closely resembling a whip.

— Rebecca Perrin

YOUR HAIR CARE MENU

APPETIZER, MAIN AND DESSERT FOR YOUR DAMAGED LOCKS

Popular hair care ingredients read like a meal and deliver on nourishment, too. Fixes like argan oil, caffeine, avocado and coconut have stepped up the hair repair game so no damage goes unfed and genuine health gets a fill-up.

By feeding your hair a hefty meal of antioxidizing oils, strengthening proteins, and conditioning butters, you can reinforce strength so the threat of breakage won't spoil your appetite for spending summer days outdoors and lounging around your neighbour's saltwater pool.

Here is a closer look at the menu:

ANTIOXIDANT SALAD (PROTECTION)

Vitamins A, B, C, E and K can be found in numerous hair products. They offer dull and depleted hair protection against oxidative damage (when environmental factors cause your hair to lose protective electrons to free radicals) and bring back plenty of healthy shine. You can find these vitamins by searching product labels for ingredients like apricot oil, pomegranate oil, argan oil, coconut oil, beta carotene, phytochemicals and grapeseed extract. Nourishing to all types of hair.

PROTEIN MAIN (STRENGTH)

Each strand of hair is comprised of three layers of proteins piled atop one another. When the second layer, the cuticle, is damaged, your hair becomes officially dry and damaged.

A protein-rich meal aids in smoothing the proteins into place and building elasticity so strands won't break from brittleness, and makes it easier for them to hold onto moisture.

Protein-rich products range from shampoos to leave-in hair treatments and show up as keratin, collagen, flaxseed and soy-based additives, for example. Fatty oils can weigh fine hair down (therefore best to use overnight) but are generally well absorbed by coarser textures.

CONDITIONING DESSERT (MOISTURE)

Conditioner does for your hair what something sweet after dinner does for our craving — satisfies. Look for shea, jojoba, mango and coconut butters if you prefer natural ingredients to fight frizz, and if your hair can handle the weight, or glycerin and silicone complexes for smoothness and shine on finer textures. All types of hair will mellow out after a cool and creamy conditioner.

50 SHADES OF WHITE

QUICK-FIX TEETH WHITENING KITS ARE EASY TO USE

At-home teeth whitening kits are a fraction of the cost of what you would pay to see your dentist. Products are easy and safe to use so you don't have to give up on your favourite vices.

The effective agent in most whitening products is hydrogen peroxide (H₂O₂). It is also likely the most popular bathroom cabinet essential (you would recognize the brown bottle with white writing, right?) because it's simply a combination of water and oxygen, and extremely affordable.

Hydrogen peroxide is one of the best germicidal agents for a household full of kids — when you used to fall off your bike and scrape your knee, your mom likely doused the bandage in H₂O₂ before sending you back outside, but these days you should consider hydrogen peroxide your ticket to whiter teeth.

Choose a teeth-whitening product with controlled amounts of hydrogen peroxide on the label. Take your pick of kits, toothpaste and mouthwash — they all have the right amount of hydrogen peroxide to whiten your teeth safely at home.

The strongest whitening kits on store shelves have 14 per cent hydrogen peroxide. Whitening mouthwashes are often made effective by a combination of hydrogen peroxide and sodium hexameta-phosphate. An alternative to H₂O₂ is carbamide peroxide, also found in whitening products, which is slower to oxidize and roughly one-third the strength of hydrogen peroxide. It may be the better option for whitening highly sensitive teeth.

As for maintaining your newly whitened teeth, think more so about how acidic your food is than its inherent colour. Salt and vinegar chips for example, though extremely delicious, are highly acidic and may contribute to the erosion of tooth enamel. Same goes for orange juice, citrus fruit and white wine, which is actually more likely than red wine to stain your teeth because it's more acidic. Also, drink water after your morning espresso to rinse away the lingering crema, and keep a spare toothbrush in your bag for good measure.

PAYING LIP SERVICE

Among the must-have lip shades this season are bouquets of both crimson red and barely-there nudes so subtle they nearly conceal your mouth. This spring, opposites attract equally.

Flesh tone lips flatter an expressively smoked eye (try this season's vivid palette of violet, indigo blue or emerald green) and also appear appropriately restrained against a bronzed complexion. Jennifer Lawrence is obviously a fan (she wears nudes often and very well) and Beyoncé always manages to make a bare lip look super fierce.

Choosing the right shade of nude is essential since it will set you up for appearing Brigitte Bardot-ish rather than passing on to the next life. Your teeth will look white rather than three shades deeper. Generally, three tones of nude lipsticks exist: Ones with apricot undertones; those with a pink tint; and true, honest beiges. Try the first two and avoid the third since that's how lips can look mistakenly chalky, like you have eaten a powdery doughnut and forgotten to tissue off.

As for red, the hottest swatches are tangerine and glossy (the ones created for Moschino by Tom Pecheux looked like freshly peeled citrus fruit) and crimson and matte. Choosing a red lipstick is truly a personal adventure to embark upon. The shade's vibrancy is so powerful, and red carries so many cultural and emotional connotations that you should try on shade after shade until you find one that makes you feel fiery.

Absolutely skip the lip liner with nude shades (you may look like a mannequin if you don't), but feel free to employ one with deep crimson lipstick. A perfectly precise line can add to the allure of red lips, like the ones created by Pat McGrath at Prada. She applied layer after layer of lipstick, blotting in between, to make sure the finished texture was opaque and deliciously rich. — Rebecca Perrin

QMJHL final

Moose staying the course with league title insight

The Halifax Mooseheads can win their first QMJHL title on Friday, but Dominique Ducharme isn't thinking that far ahead.

The Herd's bench boss knows full well what the expectation will be as his squad prepares to face Baie-Comeau at home with a 3-1 lead in their best-of-seven President Cup series.

"That's the result, and you can't control the result," Ducharme said on Thursday. "You can influence the result by taking care of the process. That's the way we're approaching it."

Coming off a controversial rough and tumble two games in Baie-Comeau, in which three Drakkar players along with the Mooseheads' Trey Lewis were suspended, Game 5 is expected to be another physical affair.

Ducharme has remained cool throughout the ordeal.

"They're taking care of their business and we're taking care of ours. We're going to be ready to battle. We're going to be winning the battles, winning the races, we're going to be finishing our checks, that's it that's what we're going to do."

He knows the Drakkar are ready to empty the tank.

We know they're going to come in here with their backs against the wall and play with urgency, but we will be playing with urgency too."

"We'll be playing our best game, and that's it."

ANDREW RANKIN/METRO

Stephen MacAulay would be the first to admit he's had a blessed junior-hockey career.

In his fifth and final year of junior eligibility, the Mooseheads veteran forward has established himself as a winner. The two President Cups and the Memorial Cup he won with Saint John speak for themselves. So does the fact that wherever he goes, teammates and fans gravitate toward the St. Louis Blues draft pick.

It's understandable, then, that the Cole Harbour native wasn't thinking about himself immediately after being asked about the possibility of winning another QMJHL title at home on Friday. That, he admitted, would be an added blessing.

"It would be incredible," MacAulay said. "This franchise has been around a lot longer than Saint John when we won up there. You see all the loyal fans here and the Maritimes, and it would mean a lot to win if for them."

Up 3-1 in their best-of-seven President Cup series against the Baie-Comeau Drakkar, the Mooseheads appear poised to deliver.

Lewis out with fighting ban

Halifax Mooseheads defence-man Trey Lewis will miss Game 5 after being suspended for his altercation with Baie-Comeau's Charles Poulin and Gabriel Verpaelt during Wednesday's Game 4.

- The fight occurred after

Poulin ran over Mooseheads goalie Zach Fucale.

- Verpaelt was also given a game suspension. Baie-Comeau's Alec Jon Banville has been suspended for two games resulting from the same scrum.

At a time when all hands on deck are focused on a single, gruelling challenge, it's sometimes difficult to get a true glimpse into what accomplishing that goal would mean to the players.

Mooseheads forward Nathan MacKinnon offered a glimpse after the Herd's 7-4 win in Baie-Comeau on Wednesday.

"We're going to have 11,000 strong really cheering us on," he said. "We want nothing more than a President Cup. I think it's a blessing in disguise that we lost Game 3, so we can win it in front of our fans."

Sens bid adieu to Habs in Game 5

NHL playoffs. Injuries cripple Canadiens as Senators streak through to Round 2

The Ottawa Senators are moving on to the second round of the NHL playoffs.

Craig Anderson made 33 saves and Cory Conacher scored twice on a shaky Peter Budaj as the Senators downed the Montreal Canadiens 6-1 on Thursday night.

Ottawa won the best-of-seven Eastern Conference quarter-final 4-1 and will move on to the second round for the first time since 2007, when they reached the Stanley Cup final only to fall to the Anaheim Ducks.

The victory gives Ottawa time to rest up and heal bruises before the conference semifinals begin next week.

Zack Smith, Kyle Turris, Daniel Alfredsson and Erik Condra also scored for Ottawa, who were underdogs as the seventh seed in the East but who were bolstered

The Habs on the other hand had five players injured in the series, including Carey Price and forwards Brian Gionta, Lars Eller, Brandon Prust and Ryan White.

P.K. Subban scored for injury-stricken Montreal, which failed to solve Anderson. They scored only nine goals in the series, while their own spotty goaltending allowed 20.

Canada blanks host Sweden

Canada's Mike Smith earned his first win of the world hockey championship with a 33-save performance as Canada blanked host Sweden 3-0 on Thursday.

Smith, who plays for Phoenix in the NHL, was at his best in the third period with 17 saves.

Steven Stamkos, Luke Schenn and Jordan Staal scored for Canada. Matt Read contributed two assists.

Jonas Enroth of the Buffalo Sabres made 22 saves on 25 shots for Sweden in the loss before being replaced by Jacob Markstrom.

Canada (3-0-1) vaulted over Sweden into second spot in the Stockholm pool with the victory.

Vokoun move pays off for Penguins

Tomas Vokoun stopped 31 shots in his first playoff start in six years and the Pittsburgh Penguins beat the New York Islanders 4-0 on Thursday night in Game 5 of their first-round playoff series.

Sidney Crosby, Tyler Kennedy and Douglas Murray scored during a seven-minute stretch in the second period and Kris Letang added a power-play goal in the third as Pittsburgh moved a step closer to advancing to the second round.

The Penguins lead the series 3-2.

Vokoun was thrust into the lineup after Pittsburgh coach Dan Bylsma benched Marc-Andre Fleury.

Walk it out: Jays' bases-loaded free pass gives Rays win

MLB. Contest featuring reigning Cy Young award winners decided in extra innings

Luke Scott drew a bases-loaded walk with two outs in the 10th inning to give the Tampa Bay Rays a 5-4 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays on Thursday night.

Scott fell behind 0-2 in the count before taking four straight balls from Brad Lincoln. The Rays loaded the bases on Evan Longoria's double off Aaron Lounsbury (1-3) and two walks.

The game featured a rare matchup of reigning Cy Young Award winners; however, David Jays starter R.A. Dickey delivers a pitch to the Rays on Thursday.

MIKE CARLSON/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Price and R.A. Dickey were not involved in the decision. It was only the third time since the Cy Young has been awarded in both leagues that reigning winners have faced each other the following season.

In the other matchups, Atlanta's Tom Glavine beat Roger Clemens and the New York Yankees 6-2 on July 15, 1999, and the Mets' Frank Viola defeated the Dodgers' Orel Hershiser 1-0 on Aug. 28, 1989.

Dickey allowed three runs and five hits, walked five and struck out five in six innings for the Blue Jays. He left with a 4-3 lead that Steve Delabar relinquished by giving up a solo homer to ex-Blue Jay Yunel Escobar leading off the seventh.

Price worked eight innings for Tampa Bay, yielding four runs (two earned) and seven hits in eight innings.

Ailing Bulls all-star back at practice

It started with the flu, and turned into a hospital stay. There were terrible headaches and weakness. Just walking was a chore.

All at the worst time for Luol Deng and the Chicago Bulls.

The All-Star forward made an appearance at Chicago's practice facility on Thursday, but it was clear from his drawn appearance and measured tone that he might not be able to make it back in time to play in the Bulls' post-season series against the Miami Heat.

Deng joined his teammates for the film session covering Wednesday night's 115-78 loss that evened the series heading into Game 3 in Chicago on Friday night. He also got on the court and took a few jumpers, but that was all he could handle.

Horoscopes

Aries

March 21 - April 20

The planets suggest you will find yourself at odds with the accepted way of doing things today. Even if it causes you financial hardship, you will fight on the side of what you believe is right. Good for you.

Taurus

April 21 - May 21

Today's solar eclipse in your birth sign means you can't put off what needs to be done. What you start over the next 24 hours will pay dividends for the next 24 months!

Gemini

May 22 - June 21

You will need to make some difficult decisions today. The important thing is that once you have decided on a certain course of action, you see it through to the end.

Cancer

June 22 - July 23

There are so many opportunities in your life right now that you may find it hard to decide what to do first. But decide you must, and quickly. The last thing you need now is to be trapped by indecision.

Leo

July 24 - Aug. 23

Today's solar eclipse means a new start in your career or vocation is not just possible but desirable too. If your present position does not satisfy you, now is the time for a change.

Virgo

Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

Your life will change for the better over the next few days. What matters even more though is that your attitude is changing: You no longer attach so much importance to things of a material nature. Good.

Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

Most things change slowly but occasionally you get the chance to change things quickly and today's eclipse makes this the ideal time to make a quantum leap. Change your outlook and your world.

Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

If a relationship has been going through a tough time of late then today's eclipse will bring matters to a head. A new start is possible but you both have got to want it.

Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

Cosmic activity in the work and wellbeing area of your chart suggests you are thinking of changing your daily routine, maybe in quite dramatic ways. And why not? Change is good.

Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

You should be having the time of your life right now and if that is not the case, it can only be because you are letting the past hold you back. Today's eclipse urges you to be bold.

Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Do not, repeat not, interfere in other people's private affairs today — and don't let other people interfere in your private matters either. You may think you know best, and maybe you do, but it won't change a thing.

Pisces

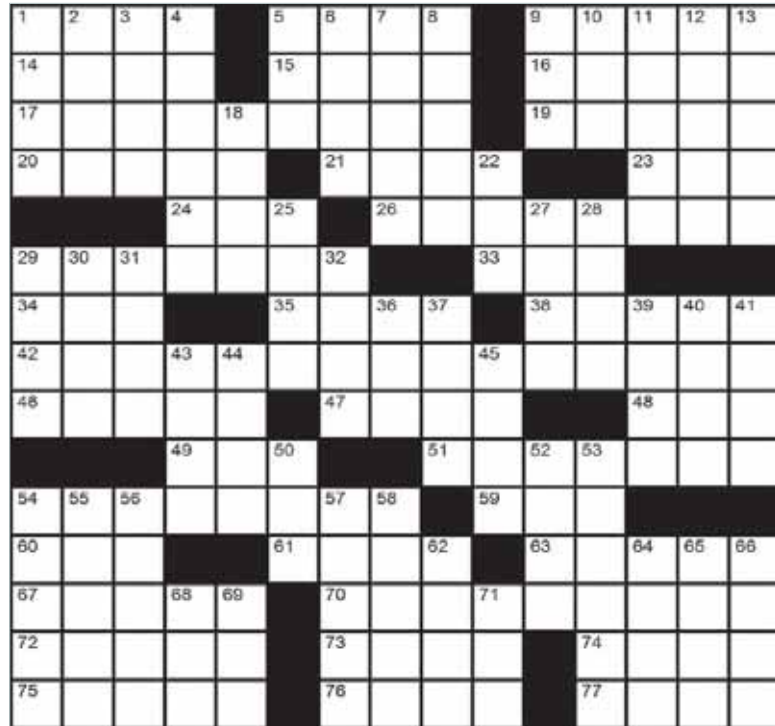

Feb. 20 - March 20

Life has been a bit predictable of late but as from today things should get a lot more interesting. If you have not yet made any social plans for the next few days then make them now. SALLY BROMPTON
